Let me take just a minute and tell you about the great experience my wife and I encountered with your installation crew. They were awesome! They were extremely professional, courteous, well mannered and answered all my stupid questions with patience. You could tell they were concerned about not spreading unnecessary dirt in our house. They wore coverings on their shoes and placed protective plastic sheeting over our floor surfaces. I'm usually extremely hard to impress but I've got to admit these young men far exceeded my expectations. Please pass along my most sincere thanks and appreciation to each of them. They reinforced my decision to do business with Paschal and everyone in your company should be proud of them.
